A SUCCESSFUL SNAKE HUNT TAKES PLACE BIFORE RACING BEGINS. Veteran Horsemen Make a Prediction-Vir

ginta Bradley Strikes a Strenk of Good Luck-A Fair Day for the Talent. The hillton is a great place for sport aside from the racing. Many pigeon matches take place near the grounds, brushes between owners of fast road horses frequently occur on the way home from the races, and yester-day morning anake hunting was inaugurated A stable boy saw a snake crawling out into the sunshine from under a rock, and this started a dozen lads hunting for the reptiles. They captured a dozen or more, and when esteran horsemen saw the snakes they predieted a warm spell of weather.

Virginia Bradley was the luckiest horse owner yesterday. Three days ago he bought St. Denis from Carley B., paying $1,500 for the horse. St. Denis was a little lame and stiff. but, as he was royally bred, Mr. Bradley but, as he was royally bred, Mr. Bradley thought he would place him in the stud. St. Denis moved well yesterday, so well that he surprised his owner and many others by beating the cracks Hamilton and Lester easily for the $500 purse at a mile. He ran the distance on the rather slow track in 1:43%. St. Denis had few backers at 8 to 1, and was the longest shot of the day. George Harris, who has recently become a heavy plunger, won a lot of morey on St. Denis.

The first race was won very cleverly by Fleurette, the favorite. Balbriggan got the place, Guard finishing at her heels. Belwood opened favorite for the second race, but bundles of money tossed on Allen Bane made him post favorite. Allen Bane won handily from Richal, Headlight beating Belwood for third money. Sir Catesby, son of Hindoo and Bourbon Belle, second choice, set the pace all the way in the third race, winning out in the light. Khaftan, the odds on choice, took second money from King Leo. The fifth race was won from the start by the odds on davorite Azrael. Fagot, second pick, got the place easily from Captain Wagner. False R, third choice, won the sixth purse from the start. Gloster, the favorite, beating Hesperus for the place.

They Are Arranging a Big Cruise Which Will Land Them in Chicago,

CLEVELAND, March 28.-The yachtsmen of the great lakes are preparing for the longest and the greatest cruise this season that was ever known to be undertaken by any similar body. It is the intention of the fresh-water sailors to combine all the yachts in the lower lakes into one grand squadron that will sail in company to the World's Fair. The cruise will begin at Buffalo, unless some of the yachts in Lake Ontario decide to join the fresh-water sailors, in which event they will rendezvous at Toronto, sailing through the Welland Janal to Buffalo, where they will be joined by a large Buffalo, where they will be joined by a large fleet and then proceed to this city. On the way from Buffalo here it is expected that one or two boats from Erie. In. and possibly one from Ashtabula. O., will add to the number from the lower end of the lake.

The Buffalo fleet is expected to number not less than eight boats, and there may be tea. The skippers of half a dozen yachts in this city have signified their desire to participate in the cruise, and when the fleet leaves Cleveland it is thought the number of boats under sail will be not less than fifteen. At Sandusky and the islands three or four additional yachts are expected to get under way and add to the party. Further additions are looked for from Toledo, and when the squadron reaches the mouth of the Detroit River there will be not less than a score of boats under sail, unless the plans of the projectors of the cruise miscarry. At Detroit and all the way up the St. Clair River the size of the fleet will be increased, and there may be yachtsmen at the straits of Mackinaw who will be eager to join in the raid upon Chicago.

In addition to the sail vessels the owners of two or three cruck steam yachts have expressed a desire to keep the fleet company, so that by the time it reaches Chicago it will be an imposing display. The trip is to be made in easy stages and with the purpose of keeping the yachts as much as possible in each other's company. Upon nearing the point of destination the boats in advance will linger behind long enough to allow the entire fleet to sail in company before the World's Fair grounds.

ning long enough to allow the entire fleet to sail in company before the World's Fair grounds.

The projector of the cruise was ex-Mayor Gardner of this city, who is an enthusiastic yachtsman and canoeman. It has been much talked about by the fresh-water sallors, and the present indications are that it will be carried out.

The trip is the longest that ever was projected for fresh-water boats, and there is no record of so great a number sailing in company. In addition to this cruise of the fresh-water yachts, it is stated that quite a number of sait-water yachts have gignified their intention of making a similar trip through the St. Lawrence River and then to Uhlcago by the same route projected by the fresh-water craft. Interest in yachting along the chain of lakes is expected to be greatly increased this season on account of the World's Fair cruises.

A Great Trotter Sold.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 29.—The noted trot-ting sire Egbert, by Hambletonian Ten, out of Camptown, by Messenger Duroc, has been sold by W. B. Hawkins to F. M. Mills of Des Moines; price $15,000.

Egbert is Hambletonian Ten's youngest son, and is the sire of such performers as Egthorne, 2:12½; Illinois Egbert, 2:10½; Superior, 2:17½; Temple Bar, 2:19½; Epert Prince (pacer), 2:13½; Egton (pacer), 2:14½. He has sired forty-five trotters and eight pacers in the 2:30 list. Egbert sold at auction here last winter for $12,500.

Boston Cup Defender Pilgrim.

Boston, March 20.-The Boston syndicate cup defender is the first to be christened with a name. She will be known as the Pilgrim. The name has the same Cape Cod flavor which characterized the three winners which the late Edward Burgess turned out — Furitan, Mayflower, and Volunteer—and if there's anything in a name the Stewart & Binney boat has a good start as a winner.

Harvard's Football Men Practice. CAMBRIDGE March 29.—Capt, Waters has begun the spring practice for the football squads. To-day some nineteen or more men turned out and were put through light exercise and a long run. More are expected to-morrow, and two elevens will then be lined up and a regular game played. The work will continue for two months probably. This is much longer than usual, but Capt. Waters is an indefaitgable worker, and is not dis-mayed by the prospect of such heavy work during the warm weather; besides, the long spell of cold weather has kept the squad from coming together before, and a good deal of valuable time has been lost.

A Medical Practice Bill in Connecticut Which

HARTFORD, March 29.-The Hall of Representatives was again crowded vesterday at the third and final hearing on the Medical Practice bill, which lasted from 12 o'clock till 9 o'clock.

Testimony in favor of the bill was given by many physicians and clergymen, and several persons who had been cured by Christian science objected to its provisions.

Mrs. Walker of this city, wife of ex-Representative Walker, a noted patent lawyer, who was cured of defective eyesight by mind healing, addressed the committee. She pleaded for "medical liberty." Miss Shoosmith of this city toid of her sufferings for twenty years from chronic difficulties and of being cured in fifteen months by mind healing.

Miss Graham of Hartford told a story of suffering for twenty years and of her treatment by Dr. Dustan of New York, Dr. Abram Stevenson of Adrian, Mich.; Dr. J. H. Kelsey of Battle Creek, Mich., and many others. She was given up to die, she said, and yet she recovered through Christian science.

I. B. Davis of this city denounced the old school physicians as "arrant scoundreis and humbugs," and said his daughter was killed by an overdose of chloral administered by a physician of West Hartford.

Others described the modes of the old-school treatment, denounced the administration of poisonous drugs, and related experience with the advantages of mind-cure healing.

Charles Dudley Warner, Dr. Wile of Danbury, the Rev. Newman Smyth, Postmaster N. D. Sperry, the Rev. Mr. Geoper, J. Dewell, the Hon. H. Lynde Harrison, and the Roy, Mr. Etsloff of New Haven, and Dr. George L. Porter of Bridgeport favored the bill.

Dr. Porter intimated that a rich patent medicine manufacturer of New York was furnishing funds for the defeat of the bill.

The closing argument against the bill was made by Joseph L. Barber. Charles E. Gross argued for it, claiming that the measure was necessary to protect the State from quacks and humbugs posing as physicians.

He said that the measure was advocated by all reputable physicians and the great majority of intelligent persons in the State. Mrs. Walker of this city, wife of ex-Repre sentative Walker, a noted patent lawyer, who

40-49 WEST 14TH ST. FLOWERS FOR MR. BURBANK.

He Thrashed Mr. Rehm, Who Had Seri-ously Offended Miss Thomas,

ATLANTA, March 28.-William C. Rehm, son of the late Bandmaster Rehm of New York, was thrashed on Monday night by Prof. Sam Burbank, one of the leading musicians of this city because Rehm had seriously offended a young woman. Four years ago Prof. Constantin Sternberg, now of Philadelphia, was the musical instructor in Ballard's Institute, a fashionable school for young ladies in this city. Among those who came to seek his instruction was Miss Marie, the daughter of Dr. Thomas of Lacon, Ill. Dr. Thomas spends his winters in Florida, and it was in travelling that he became acquainted with Sternberg. Later Stern-berg sent to New York for Rehm to act as assistant. When Miss Thomas passed from Sternberg's instruction she went to Germany, where she completed her musical edu many, where she completed her musical education. Last summer she returned home, and two weeks ago started from Illinois with her mother on her way to Florida.

Meantime Rehm, who had succeeded to Sternberg, was boasting of his friendly relations to his former pupil, and when she reached the city he so far forgot himself as to call her by her Christian name. On Friday night while in a barroom Rehm called her by telephone to introduce her to a friend. This was more than she could bear, and on Saturday Rehm
received the following letter:

Mr. Kehm.

than she could bear, and on Saturday Renim received the following letter:

Mr. Kohw.

Dras Sins: I feel very indignant at the liberty you took last night in introducing a man to me over the telephone of such a notorious character as he, and in such place as it appears you must have been, since you were ashamed to tell me where you were at the time, and more than that, at the liberty you have taken to address me as "Marie." Understand as now and aiways I am Miss Thomas. No apologies will rectify these mistakes. I am indeed sorry to learn since I last knew you in Atlanta that you have won a reputation not at all envisible, and would advise you to mad your ways. Respectfully.

Rohm replied, after he had pondered over the note and had become very angry, as follows;

Kingall House, Allaria, Ga. March 27.

Miss: After consultation with my attorney, and by his advice. I so the proportionity to apologize four effects of last Friday. If the apology is not received within one hour I will begin attachment proceedings against you for tibel and defamation of character. I regret exceedingly to be forced to this line of passedure, but my character shall not be assailed by any one.

becedure, but my character shall not be assailed by any one.

Miss Thomas was at the home of a friend when the note was delivered, and Mr. Burbank was present. She handed him the note, and he told her he would answer it. Mr. Burbank started to find Rhem. He found him at Joseph Thompson's office.

'Instead of bringing you an apology," said Mr. Burbank. 'I have come to demand one of you." Hehm declared that as the whole matter was in the hands of his attorney he could do nothing. "Then take that," said Burbank, giving Rehm a blow under the jaw which sent him spinning. Another blow with the other fist sent Rehm to the floor limp as a rag.

In explaining his failure to strike back Rehm said: "I am a planist, and if I had struck Burbank it would have stiffened my fingers so that I could not play with my pupils to-morrow." Mr. Rhem is still looking for his apology. apology.

Mr. Burbank has been the recipient of floral tributes from the ladies all day.

ASBURY PARK'S NEW TOWN MARSHAL His Appointment Opposed in Value by the ASSUET PARK, March 29.-There is great commotion here over the appointment of ex-Commissioner William H. Smith as Town Marshal in spite of the opposition of the Law and Order League.

Mr. Smith was a Commissioner for six years. or until the borough was reincorporated a few weeks ago. He thought he would like to be Chief Marshal, and got the Councilmen to pledge themselves to appoint him. The Law and Order people declared that Mr.

The Law and Order people declared that Mr. Smith was not a fit person to fill the office, and brought all kinds of charges against him, asserting that he would allow vice and immorality to he carried on in defiance of the law and the edict of Founder Bradiey.

The League even went so far as to send petitions praying against the appointment of Mr. Smith as Chief Marshal to the several clergymen in the place last Sunday, with the request that they be read from the pulpit and circulated among the congregations for signatures. All the pastors, with the exception of the Rev. Frank Scudder, the temporary supply of the Reformed Church, ignored the petitions. Mr. Soudder read the one he received from the pulpit. Its publicity caused a commotion among the congregation many of whom were Mr. Smith's stanchest supporters.

Mr. Scudder regretted what he had done, and made an apology to Mr. Smith. At the meeting of the Council Monday night a petition was read from the Law and Order League, requesting that the appointment of Chief Marshal lie over for one week.

A number of prominent business men, including Postmaster E. G. Harrison, culogized Mr. Smith, and the Council appointed him Chief Marshal. The Law and Order people say they will make it uncomfortable for the new official.

Chinese maiden of Honolulu, had been announced. Many refused at first to believe it, saying that Commander Whiting was too steadfast a bachelor ever to think of marrying.

The Alliance, the ship of Commander Whiting, belongs to the North Pacific squadron, and frequently it puts in at Honolulu. Among the Commander's acquaintances there, is Ah Fong, a wealthy Chinese merchant. Ah Fong has a daughter. Etta, who is 17 years old. Commander Whiting is 50. The news of the engagement reached San Francisco by a steamship which left Honolulu on March 16, It was to the effect that the engagement of Commander Whiting and Miss Etta Ah Fong has been announced. The Alliance herself reached San Francisco on Tuesday morning with Commander Whiting on board. The engagement, according to the report, was an nounced just before she left Honolulu.

Miss Ah Fong is not a full-blooded China woman. Her father, Ah Fong, drifted to the Sandwich Islands when young and single. He made a great deal of money in a very short time. He was always a good judge of the opium market. He married a wealthy Kanaka woman who lived near Honolulu. He has thirteen children. It is said that if he were to die to-day he would leave enough to give each of his children a million and a half of dollars He is said to be shrewd, and also eccentric When Kalakaua was King, Ah Fong made him a present of $70,000. Subsequently, it is said. King Kalakaua threw a monopoly of the opium privilege into the hands of one of Ah Fong's home and to be a member of the very best Kanakan society. Miss Etta Ah Fong is said to be his favorite daughter. She is described as being tall, slender, and graceful, with a clear complexion, blue eyes, and wavy brown were not made so by wearing small shoes in and highly accomplished for a girl of her age.

Commander Whiting is short and compact. He has gray hair, a heavy white moustache, and a gentle, winning manner. He was born in this city on July & 1843. His parents were natives of Wisconsin, and he was appointed to Annapolis from that State on Sept. 12, 1800. From 1803 to 1805 he served as ensign on the flagship Hartford in the West Gulf squadron. He was in the battle of Mobile Bay, and took an active hand in the burning of the British blockade runner Ivanhoe under the guns of Fort Morgan on July 5, 1864. He was present at the surrender of Fort Gaines a month later, and two weeks afterward he participated in the bombardment and surrender of Fort Morgan. It was at Fort Morgan that Commander Whiting's hearing was impaired. A shell exploded near his head, damaging the tympanum of his left ear. In 1805 he was transferred to the Kearsarge of the European squadron, where he served until November, 1896, when he was made a master, and transferred to the steamer Frolic of the same squadron. He was commissioned a Lieutenant in February, 1867, and a Lieutenant-Commander in March, 1808, when he was assigned to the Sustem Squadron, but left it a year later for the Second-rater Benicia of the Brooklyn Navy Yard. He stayed there for three years, when he was assigned to the Constitution for special service. He returned to the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Commander Whiting is very popular among officers and men. He is knewn as a good sallor and a good fighter. Until now, it is said, he has been noted for his bravery, his wit, and his avoidance of marriageable worsen. An officer at the Navy Yard, who knows the Commander said:

his avoidance of marriageable woten. An officer at the Navy Yard, who knows the Commander, said:

"Whiting is a wonderful man. He has a brain that is the envy of many of his fellows. Many a time he has held us up to sco. no no ur affections and attentions to women. Now it is our turn. He was a warm supporter of the Geary Exclusion bill, and the point we are going to raise on him is that he cannot bring his wife into this country if he marries Miss. Ah Fong, because he would be violating the Geary law. He will say, probably, that he married her, that he is a citizen of the United States, and his wife has the same rights as he. But we will tell him flat-footed that marriage is not naturalization, at least not in the navy." A sister of Commander Whiting, Mrs. R. M. Reed, lives at 484 Greene avenue. Brooklyn. The Commander makes his home with her when he is in this vicinity. Mrs. Reed was not in yesterday, but another sister said that they had heard the rumor about their brother. "We got a telegram from the Commander last night," she said. "His ship, the Alliance, reached San Francisco yesterday morning. The telegram contained twenty words. It said he arrived safe and was well. The rest of it was about private business."
"Do you think he is going to marry Ah Fong? was asked.
"I don't know. We only heard of the report. But if he does we shall stand by him."
Consul Woon of the Chinese Legation said yesterday:
"I know Ah Fong's family very well, and

FATHER LEAREY INVOKES THE LAW. The Priest Mgr. Satolii Suspended Threat ened with an Injunction.

TRENTON, March 28.-The troubles in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church at Swedesboro are growing more complicated. William P. Treacy, the excommunicated priest, still refuses to surrender the church property to the Rev. Father Walter Leahey, his successor, the Rev. Father Walter Leahey, his successor, and to-day Vice-Chancellor Bird granted an order requiring Treacy to show cause on April 14 why an injunction should not issue restraining him from interfering with Father Leahey in the discharge of his functions as priest of the church.

If an injunction is obtained it will restrain Treacy from in any manner hindering or delaying walter Leahey in the performance of his duties as the duly appointed pastor of the church, or the members of the congregation from occupying and enjoying the property and buildings as a place of worship, burial, or as a residence; and it will also restrain Treacy from collecting any of the pew rents or perquisites of the church.

Thieves that Have Been a Terror Since the

SUMMERVILLE, March 20.-The citizens of Raritan, N. J., are indignant over the doings of a gang of toughs, who, for the past two weeks, have so terrorized the community that scarcely a respectable man, woman, or child dares to venture out of doors after nightfall. Two weeks ago the people grew tired of paying taxes to support a police force, and sus-their old tricks.

Two nights after the police went off duty the gang began by robbing a store in North Branch of about $500 of merchandise.

The night after that Adair's mill, in the heart of the village, was entered, but as nothing valuable could be found they contented themselves with breaking open desks and strewing the contents of several bags of flour over the floor.

A week ago last Saturday night the gang lay in wait for young William Feener, who in some way had incurred their ill will. They caught him and beat him so that he has been confined to his house ever since.

The next day the gang remained quiet, but on Monday night they stole a quarter of beef from Smith's butcher shop, broke into the Catholicchurch on the Main street and made off with the contents of the poor box. Then going over to the Central Railroad station they carried a nickel-in-the-slot machine down the track, smashed it, and divided the nickels among themselves. With the proceeds of this robbery they went on a three-days' sprea.

They wound up on Saturday night by going into a saloon on Anderson street and cleaning out the place. Two young men named Duffy, who were friends of the gang, tried to quiet them, but were set upon by five of the rowdles and soverely beaten.

One of them was thrown through a window in the front of the saloon. The gang then went from house to house in the village, throwing atones at the inmates and pulling nearly all the pickets off the fences.

Warrants were sworn out yesterday against the members of the gang, but no officer could be found who was willing to serve them, and the gang have made their headquarters in a little wooden hut just above the town, near a deep cut of the Central Railroad. The lumber for this hut they obtained by jumping on the freight trains two or three miles above here and throwing off what they wanted.

Here the gang, which numbers about twenty, sleep during the day. They are well prenared to defend their stronghold against all comers. All of the members of the gang have served sho
